SAYS BUILDINGS ARE UNSANITARY

City Commission Asked to Abate Nuisance on West Fourth South.

PROBLEM IS PRESENTED

Ordinance Must Be Drawn to Afford a Remedy; Two New Computers.

The city commissioners last night re ceived a petition signed by twenty-five residents living in the neighborhood of Fourth South and Fifth West streets complaining of the unsanitary condition of row of houses on Fourth South street, between Fifth and Sixth West streets.

Mrs. J. W. Smith, on behalf of the pe titioners, appeared before the commission and spoke of the conditions which she said had existed in that section for many months. The houses in question belong to P. Grandinetti, 548 West Fourth South street and are tenanted by Greeks.

Mrs. Smith said that in addition to the buildings being a menace to health and a constant source of danger from fire, the men living in them have on oc-casions begulied little girls into the rooms with candy and gum and acted improp-erly.

with candy and gum and acted improperly.

After listening to the protestants, the petition was referred to the department of public safety.

Anron Mers, assistant city attorney, said that he had inspected the premises and was satisfied that conditions were as they were represented, but that some sort of an ordinance must be drawn before effective action can be had, the present enactment being inadequate, owing to the fact that the bouses are built on the man's own ground.

After the meeting Mayor Samuel C. Park said that he would at once confer with the health department in order to secure relief for the petitioners.

Opinion of Dininny.

The commission received an opinion from City Attorney Harper J. Dininny that it could not withhold payments which may become due to the Consolidated Construction company, which concern is now doing some sidewalk work for the city. The legal department advised the commission that the company had already assigned its prospective warrants for the work to a local bank as security.

The opinion was received by the commissioners in answer to a petition of the Portland Cement company of Utah, which claimed that the construction firm owed it the sum of $2400 for cement furnished. Several laborers who had been discharged by the company and who claimed that they were not paid wages due them had also petitioned the city to withhold sufficient funds to meet their pay checks.

The commissioners concurred in the withhold sufficient funds to meet their pay chocks.

The commissioners concurred in the colminon of the legal department, which leaves the cement company and the laborers in the position of bringing a civil action for their respective claims.

Upon recommendation of City Engineer D. H. Blossom two additional computers were added to the engineering staff, each at $85 a month. The two appointers were added to the engineering staff, each at $85 a month. The two appointers are A. T. Brown and J. H. Felt David Rodgers, a computer at present employed, had his salary raised from $100 to $110.

Commissioner R. P. Merris will tomorrow introduce a resolution increasing the salary of Miss Alma York, stenographer in the office of the building inspector, from $50 to $50 a menth.

MUST CUT ALL WEEDS IN THE VACANT LOTS

Within a few days the legal department will complete the drafting of an ordinance compelling property owners to cut all weeds from vacant lots about the city. The action is taken on account of the belief that the weeds are breeders of disease germs.

The ordinance, it is expected, will be put into force at once in order that lots may be cleared before the weeds have a chance to go to seed.

may be cleared before the weeds have a chance to go to seed.

At this time of the year the under side of the lower leaves or "lugs" of the weeds is covered with black plant lice, which leave the plant and seek a new home in rose trees and other shrubbery that may be feund in nearby gardens. According to those who have made an investigation, it takes the plant lice but a short time to ruin a beautiful garden.

Emil S. Lund, building inspector, said in reference to the matter: "I have had this man arrested for building without a permit and the case is now in court. He has about twenty men there and the stetch from their quarters is unbearable. A very grave phase is the fear that the neighbors feel for their children."

Upon motion of Commissioner R. P. Morris the contract of the city with the Bird-Mendenhall company for the paving embraced in extension 74 was approved. The petition of the company for permission to assign the contract to G. A. Hence the St. Louis contracts for which were recently awarded and for an extension of the time for the completion of the work to October 31 was referred to the legal department.

A resolution by Commissioner H. W. Lawrence provided that hereafter all contracts which the city may make for public work shall contain the following clause: "Under this contract eight hours shall constitute a day's work as provided in section 7, chapter 16, of the state constitute a day's work as provided in tection."

The resolution of Mr. Lawrence is the result of a petition to that effect recently received from the American Federation of Labor.

THREE OPINIONS BY THE SUPREME COURT

David Eccles Loses Case Involving Title to Small Strip of Ground.

The state supreme court yesterday handed down three opinions, in two of which judgment of the lower court is affirmed and in one reversed and the case tirmed and in one reversed and the case remanded for a new trial.

Judgment is affirmed in the case of Sarah E. Binford against David Eccles of Ogden The action was brought in the nature of ejectment proceedings to recover possession of a strip of ground less than two feet in width and 130 feet in length on which one wall of the Ogden Armory is built.

The district court found the issues against Mr. Eccles and is affirmed by the supreme court with the suggestion that a court of equity can probably establish the value of the ground in question. The opinion was written by Chief Justice J. E. Frick and concurred in by Justices W. M. McCarty and D. N. Straup.

Judgment is reversed in the case of the state of Utah against William Chynowith who was tried and convicted in Garfield county of the theft of one calf from Rufus B. Listen, and in October, 1910, sentenced to serve three years in the state penitentiary.

Chynowith appealed the case on the

B. Listen, and in October, 1910, sentenced to serve three years in the state penitentiary.

Chynowith appealed the case on the ground that there was insufficient evidence to prove the ownership of the calf in question and his contention is upheld by the supreme court which remands the case for new trial.

Justice W. M. McCarty wrote the opinion, which was concurred in by Chief Justice J. E. Frick and Justice D. N. Straup. In the case of Martino Vota against the Ohio Copper company, an action brought to recover damages for personal damages in an accident at Bingham Canyon, February I, 1910, while Vota was employed by the mining company, and in which the district court directed a verdict for the copper concern, indement is affirmed.

Vota in his complaint alleged negligence on the part of his employers and the mining company pleaded that the accident could have been avoided but for the carelessness of the plaintiff.

Chief Justice J. E. Frick wrote the opinion, Justices W. M. McCarty and D. N. Straup concurring.

BAR AT MIDVALE IS DARINGLY ROBBED

Masked Men With Weapons Hold Up Saloon of Willis Vincent; Secure Cash.

ENTER AT REAR DOOR

Take $88 From Cash Register, $106 From Proprietor, and Appropriate His Diamond.

Two men with drawn revolvers, their ices masked from the eyes down behind blue handkerchiefs, held up the Vincent bar at Midvale at 9:50 o'clock last night. The robbers secured $88 from the cash register, $106 from the pocket and a dia-mond stud from the shirt front of Willis Vincent, proprietor, besides some money from patrons of the place.

Entering from the rear door, the holdps had every one in the saloon covered before their approach was noticed. One bandit gave particular attention to Vincent and the other to William Hughes, the bartender. Both Vincent and Hughes vere unarmed, but the man who rifled the cash register found Vincent's gun in drawer and calmly pocketed it.

Work Quickly Done.

Working quickly with a coolness that perpoke experience, the armed men collected the spare change of the six other men present and retreated, as they came, through the rear door. An alarm was raised immediately, but the robbers seemed to have stepped from the back threshold of the saloon to land upon Al-addin's carpet. They had disappeared as mysteriously as if they had been caught up by magic.

BAKER FAMILY AIRS TROUBLES IN COURT

The troubles between Crucy Baker and Ceneth D. Baker, both of Union, Salt Lake county, seem to be manifold. A few days ago suit was filed by the former alleging defamation of character on account, it is alleged, of the latter making remarks before witnesses accusing the former of stessing soap. Yesterday Crucy Baker filed a second suit in the Third district court against Ceneth Baker, this time asking $1500 damages for assault and battery. She alleges that on two occasions Ceneth Baker assaulted her with her fists, causing her face to swell and inflicting two black eyes.
